

POYNTER IS THE NOMINEE

Populists Get Fusion Candidate for Governor After All-Night Session.

DEMOCRATS MAKE A PROTRACTED FIGHT

After Governorship is Settled the Remaining Places on the Ticket Are Comparatively Easily Filled.

For Governor, W. A. POYNTER, Attorney General, C. J. SMYTH, Secretary of State, J. P. CORNELL, Auditor, J. B. MESSER, Treasurer, W. R. JACKSON, Superintendent of Instruction.

LINCOLN, Aug. 3.—(Special Telegram.)—W. A. Poynter, of Douglas county, is the nominee of the fusion forces for governor. The democrats did not finally give in until 5:55 this morning, though the populist and free silver republican conventions had agreed upon him earlier in the night.

The nomination of Poynter by the democrats was effected at break of day only by the herculean efforts of the leaders. At a dozen points during the long, all-night session, it looked as though the fusion forces were about to give up. The real reason was that it was realized that fusion meant no Poynter or not at all. The opposition in the democratic camp seems to have been carefully nursed by the editor who had been backing Stark, aided by Edgar Howard, in the chair, who actually believed he was to be the nominee. These factors also had the secret help of Chairman Edmisten and his machine. They resorted to desperate tactics, whispering among the democratic delegates that Poynter was a prohibitionist, and that he had anti-Roman tendencies. These were largely untrue. The real reason at the bottom was that the democratic machine and its Omaha organ had no assurance that they were to control the lading of the democratic share of the spoils. So effectively did they operate, however, that their trenches were not undermined until Poynter appeared before them and in so many words said: "I am not a prohibitionist. I favor liberty of conscience and religion." This humbling performance accomplished its purpose, but not until the contest had left scars that will remain open indefinitely.

Stand Steadily by Poynter.

The only response to the notification that the democrats had voted to nominate Stark was another instruction to the secretary to cast a sixth ballot unanimously for Poynter. It was now nearly 3:30 a. m. Not more than 200 delegates remained. They were in a rather dilapidated condition, but in order to determine to gain their point.

In the meanwhile, the convention passed time by listening to speeches from different people called out at haphazard. Judge Neville made a red-hot speech, denouncing democratic interference and disclaiming sanction to the continuing casting of votes for him in the democratic convention. "I believe it is destruction to fusion scheme for the democrats to hang out. I am going to vote for W. A. Poynter. I am the only populist who does vote for him."

The seventh ballot, unanimous for Poynter, was a repetition of those before it. Attorney General Smyth made a talk to the convention, in which he assured the delegates that there was no disposition on the part of the democrats to dictate the nomination. He believed an agreement would soon be reached. Some of the democrats were voting for their own man because they believed the populists would be given the head of the ticket next year. The attorney general closed his speech by throwing a few bouquets at himself and the other state officers.

The committee on resolutions brought in an amended report, making the correction requested by Senator Allen. The committee also reported that after careful consultation, both among the members of the committee and with persons not members of the committee, it had been decided to strike out the plank relating to stock yards and to recommend a substitute. The report was adopted. The substitute stock yards resolution was as follows:

We demand a speedy determination of the litigation involving the validity of the stock yards act, regulating charges for feed and yardage, to the end that they may be determined, if said act is ineffectual, what steps should be taken to reduce said yards to state ownership.

The resolutions had been recommended for the express purpose of changing the plank relating to Senator Allen, but the delegates allowed the plank relating to stock yards to be juggled without uttering a protest. Several of the North American Indians were magnificent specimens of physical manhood. This was due, largely, to their active outdoor life. Nevertheless, they had the wisdom to know that an active life in the open air alone would not keep a man healthy. They had their medicines, many who gathered herbs from field and forest and brewed decoctions to assist the natural processes of the various vital organs.

Modern civilized men do not as a usual thing recognize the same necessity until it is too late. They ignore medicine until they are within the grasp of some serious or fatal disease. The time for a man to begin taking medicine is when he begins to feel out of sorts. If a man is thoroughly well and healthy he does not think that way. If he does feel that way he may be pretty sure that he is half sick. When he is half sick it does not take long before he is a whole sick. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine for a man when he is sick or getting sick. It puts him all right again. It puts his stomach right to begin with, and that is the most important point. It puts his liver right, and that is the second most important point. It purifies his blood and fills it with the life-giving elements of the food he eats, and that is the third important point. It drives out all disease germs and impurities of every description. It makes the appetite keen and hearty. It is the greatest blood-purifier and best of all cures of per cent of all cases of constipation, weak lungs, spitting of blood, obstructed bowels and kindred ailments. Thousands who were given up to die have testified to their recovery under this marvelous medicine. A honest dealer will not give a substitute for the sake of a little extra gain. He gives you what you ask for.

eral of F. T. Ransom's allies from Douglas county circulated among the delegates until after the vote was taken. Poynter, Stark, 17; Thompson, 21; Howard, 17.

The populists called the roll for another vote on governor. The result was: Poynter, 27; Thompson, 25; Edmisten, 34; Neville, 37; Gaffin, 57; Stark, 9; Weir, 124.

At 5:45 a. m. a messenger reported that on the seventh ballot at the silver republican convention the result was: Poynter, 284; Thompson, 274. Five minutes later the report came that the democrats had agreed upon Poynter. This stirred the sleepy delegates to considerable enthusiasm. Immediately afterward a motion to take a recess to 8 o'clock was adopted.

The withdrawal of Harris and the endorsement of Poynter by Lieutenant Governor, the closing scenes of the convention included speeches by Holcomb, Sutherland, Will Dech and John Powers. At 10 o'clock reports were received from the other conventions.

Adjournment came soon after, most of the delegates having already left the hall.

Not Ready to Give In.

The populists sent word that they had taken another ballot, which was unanimous for W. A. Poynter. The same scramble over a ballot was resumed, and Senator Gooding urged that Howard be given a unanimous vote of the convention. This was denied by them and a roll call for a new ballot was begun. It resulted: Stark, 260; Neville, 17; Poynter, 26; Howard, 21; Gaffin, 3; Edmisten, 6; Messer, 7; Dunn, 1; Thompson, 14.

Howard moved that Stark's nomination be made unanimous. This was voted down.

The result of the fifth ballot at the silver republican convention was communicated with a report that the populists remained firm with Poynter, after which the democrats took another ballot, resulting: Stark, 408; Howard, 220; Poynter, 13; Damerell, 13; Neville, 5; Thompson, 49; Edmisten, 4.

The result of the sixth ballot at the silver republican convention was communicated with a report that the populists remained firm with Poynter, after which the democrats took another ballot, resulting: Stark, 408; Howard, 220; Poynter, 13; Damerell, 13; Neville, 5; Thompson, 49; Edmisten, 4.

A delegate in the gallery appealed to the convention for harmony. He urged the democrats to endorse Poynter's nomination as the silver republicans had done, but he was shouted out.

Colonel Page presented a report from the silver republicans, endorsing Poynter, and appealed to the convention to do likewise. A delegate in one of the boxes became enthusiastic, and with a flag in one hand he called upon the convention to endorse Poynter. He was shouted out.

W. H. Thompson suggested that a list of names be submitted to that convention, any one of whom the democrats would endorse. He said the democrats appeared to be dissatisfied with the nominee of the populist convention, and thought the populists should be willing to make this concession to the democrats.

Aimed at a Compromise.

J. C. Dahlman moved that five names be chosen. This was amended by T. J. Nolan to name three names, and these to be: M. F. Harrington, Silas A. Holcomb and W. L. Stark. A substitute was offered that names of five democrats be submitted. Another man wanted a ballot to be taken, the five highest to be the list submitted.

The chairman ruled them all out on a point of order that the method of procedure for the convention had been adopted in the conference committee's report.

Roberts of Douglas moved to adjourn till 8:30, but it was voted down.

Matt Gerling made an appeal for Poynter. A motion to appoint a committee to invite Mr. Poynter before the convention was proposed and Matt Gerling of Cass, H. M. Boydston of Otoe and J. H. Harley of Lancaster were appointed.

Another report was read from the populist convention, again maintaining its support of Poynter.

James Manahan of Lancaster moved that Poynter's nomination be endorsed, but the motion was not acted upon, because some one asked Manahan if he was not seeking the populist endorsement for congress.

Jim Dahlman also called upon democrats to endorse Poynter.

Judge Neville was accorded a hearing and recounted the proceedings at the conventions last year, when he surrendered his desire for the nomination for supreme judge that a union might be effected upon Judge Sullivan's plan. He said the populists should be allowed to decide who is the strongest man in their party this year. In their convention they decided that Poynter was the strongest man, and that decision should be accepted.

The silver republicans again reported that they were favorable to Poynter.

W. A. Poynter arrived at this time and was introduced to the convention, being freely applauded. He said he was not well known to democrats, having been a populist since the birth of that party. His father was a democrat of Kentucky birth, and his grandfather was also a democrat. He came to Nebraska, he said, twenty years ago, but finding the democratic papers here advocating principles strange to him he sought information more congenial and assisted in the formation of the populist party.

After making several other motions and was made that all rules be suspended and W. A. Poynter be nominated by acclamation. A rising vote was called for and the delegates almost to a man stood up and cheered.

Mr. Poynter thanked the convention for the honor conferred, and predicted victory in November, after which he retired.

The convention proceeded to nominate candidates for the other offices, although it was now after 6 o'clock and the delegates had been at work all night.

Shomeraker of Douglas nominated C. O. Lobock of Douglas, a representative of the silver republicans, for lieutenant governor. J. J. Dunn of Douglas named Lieutenant Governor Harris for renomination.

W. H. Thompson of Hall named A. E. Gilbert of Holt for auditor. Matt Gerling of Cass named J. B. Messer of Holt for treasurer. These were all guaranteed as silver republicans except Harris.

A call of the roll was ordered with this result: Harris, 328; Gilbert, 45; Fulton, 217; Curry, 2.

At this time less than 40 delegates were participating in the deliberations of the convention.

W. H. Thompson sought to nominate the rest of the state ticket in blanket form by acclamation, but the vote was out off at 6:25 a. m. by a motion to adjourn to 8 o'clock, which prevailed.

Finishing in a Hurry.

Upon resuming the convention took another ballot for lieutenant governor, with this result: Harris, 144; Gilbert, 45; Fulton, 120.

Before this vote was announced Mr. Fulton was allowed to address the convention to make an explanation, in which he aired a row in the silver republican convention, after the vote was taken. He said he had been asked to head off a stampede. Gilbert's friends demanded that he be given another hearing. This was granted, and he replied to Mr. Fulton's charges.

A report from the populist convention that all the candidates for the other offices, had been renominated and that Mr. Harris had withdrawn his name from the list of candidates for lieutenant governor was received with cheers, and there was immediate confusion among the friends of Fulton and Gilbert.

Lieutenant Governor Harris appeared and formally withdrew his name as a candidate, for the reason, he said, that harmony might prevail.

A delegate from the populist convention here announced that that body had unanimously chosen Mr. Gilbert as their candidate for lieutenant governor. A motion was made that A. E. Gilbert, for lieutenant governor, and Attorney General Smyth, Secretary of State, State Auditor Cornell, Land Commissioner Wolfe, State Treasurer Messer and Superintendent Jackson be nominated by acclamation, which was done by a rising vote.

The convention dissolved forthwith, without further action.

The silver republicans met again this morning at 8:30 and proceeded to take up the business of nominating a lieutenant governor, taking it for granted that this place was to be filled by a man of their selection. During the night an experimental ballot had been taken, in which Lobock received, 113; Gilbert, 136; Fulton, 65.

This morning the first ballot resulted as follows: Lobock, 143; Lobock, 97; Fulton, 72; Dobson, 7.

Second ballot: Lobock, 133; Lobock, 204; Fulton, 514.

NO STAMPS ARE REQUIRED

Not Necessary to Put Them on Teachers' Contracts and Certificates.

JACKSON INVESTIGATES THE MATTER

In Response to Inquiries from Teachers the State Superintendent Gets an Opinion from the Revenue Collector.

LINCOLN, Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Superintendent Jackson has received a large number of inquiries from teachers over the state in regard to the necessity of putting revenue stamps on their contracts and certificates. He wrote to Revenue Collector J. E. Houtz for information, mentioning teachers' certificates, district orders, annual reports and teachers' contracts, and has just received a reply that is none of the matters mentioned are subject to taxation. This is of special interest in a few counties where the county superintendents have held differently.

Certificates of nomination of the candidates chosen by the fusion state convention were filed with the secretary of state this afternoon.

Some members of the liberty prohibition party met in this city yesterday afternoon and nominated a state ticket as follows: Governor, R. A. Hawley, Lancaster; lieutenant governor, J. M. Phillips, Douglas; secretary of state, J. M. Dilworth, Johnson; attorney general, Frank G. O'Connell, Lincoln; auditor, J. B. Messer, Holt; treasurer, J. B. Messer, Holt; superintendent, Mrs. E. E. Utter, Red Willow.

Epworth Assembly.

Lincoln park has been converted into a tented city, and the second annual Epworth assembly is in charge. Scores of campers have been coming in on every train yesterday and today, and a large crowd of good natured men and women and boys and girls are busy getting settled for a week's enjoyment of out-of-door life. The grounds present the appearance of a large, well-kept lawn and the recent rain leaves the park in the best possible condition. Over 200 tents have already been placed in position and everything points to an attendance very much larger than that of last year.

Tonight the forces of good nature enjoyed by a large crowd of people. Snowden and Miller's original Tennesseeans gave a half-hour song service and it is safe to predict that every member of the audience will hear them as often as possible during the assembly. Prayer was offered by Rev. D. W. O'Connor of Colver university, after which President L. O. Jones spoke a few words of welcome and introduced Governor Holcomb as chairman of the evening. The lecture course of the season was opened with "Thirty Hours in the Sunless World," by Rev. Robert McIntyre.

Relief in Nebraska.

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Cambridge and vicinity was treated to a fine rain last evening, amounting to one and one-eighth inches.

TRENTON, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—A heavy rain fell all over the county yesterday afternoon and evening, thus assuring one of the finest crop years we have ever had in this section. From one to two inches fell, and the heavy rain has been a relief to the county. The Culbertson irrigating ditch was washed out in several places, the farmers are jubilant over the assured crop.

WAUSA, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—The usual amount of rain has been received regarding the harvesting of the mammoth wheat crop. About half the crop yet remains to be cut.

NELSON, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Much needed rain fell last night and soaked the ground, which for several weeks past had been very dry. The corn is partly ruined by the continued dry weather, but the rain will help what is left. There is a prospect of much more rain today.

BANKPORT, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—A heavy rain fell last night and soaked the ground, which for several weeks past had been very dry. The corn is partly ruined by the continued dry weather, but the rain will help what is left. There is a prospect of much more rain today.

BENKELMAN, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—A heavy rain fell last night and soaked the ground, which for several weeks past had been very dry. The corn is partly ruined by the continued dry weather, but the rain will help what is left. There is a prospect of much more rain today.

Populists Oust a Chairman.

CHADRON, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—A farce was enacted in the court house of Dawes county yesterday which is regretted by all taxpayers in the county. It was caused by the attempt on the part of the populists in control of the board of commissioners to oust a chairman.

WEST POINT, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—A writ of mandamus was yesterday granted by Judge Evans against Albert Walla, the acting county clerk of Cumming county, requiring him to deliver up the office to Charles C. Bartels, the appointee of the board of commissioners.

Off for Tampa.

WEST POINT, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Lieutenant W. C. Valentini departed this morning for Tampa, Fla., where he has been ordered to report immediately to the commanding officer of the Fourth corps and to accompany the first expedition to Porto Rico, under General Coppinger, where he will report to the commanding officer of the Nineteenth infantry for company assignment.

Harvest Notes.

BARNESTOWN, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—The threshing of wheat is about all over around here. The average yield for the acre is estimated at twenty-seven bushels, three bushels below the average reached last year. No rain here for a month. Farmers are waiting anxiously for moisture to begin fall plowing. Corn looks fine and is not suffering any. All other crops are holding their own.

Polk County Mortgage Record.

OSGEOULA, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Mortgage record for the month of July in Polk county shows that there were seven farm mortgages filed, amounting to $15,326.11; released, fourteen, amounting to $16,750; city mortgages filed, three, amounting to $1,820; released, one, amounting to $100; chattel mortgages filed, seventy-three, amounting to $21,453.99; released, thirty-three, amounting to $21,453.99.

Hand Crushed.

WEST POINT, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—A painful accident happened last night to George Ruel, an employee of the West Point machine shop. Whilst loading castings he had one hand crushed almost to a jelly.

Falls from a Tree.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Stephen Atkins, the 12-year-old son of a County Superintendent R. F. Atkins, fell from a tree yesterday and suffered a severe fracture of the left arm at the shoulder.

Lincoln Oil Company Election.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—The board of directors of the National Lincoln Oil company met this afternoon. Franklin D. Locke of Buffalo and Daniel L. Holmes of St. Louis were elected in place of A. C. Abbott and A. O. Hall, resigned.
